CERTAINTY OF A CONG. S. LONDON, May 27 .- Accounts received from every capital in Europe concur as .o main feature of the political nev , namely The certainty of an early meeting of the congress; but considerable anxiety is still apparent about the military preparations and the situation before Corstantinople. THE ATTITUDE OF AUSTRIA especially creates apprehensions at St. Petersburg, and these will not be allayed by the occupation of Ada Kaleh, Aus. ia's fir overt demonstrations against Russia's settlement of the Eastern question, Russia having promised that island to Serv'

the progress of negotiations. THE UNOFFICIAL PRESS CRITICISED. The unofficial press, notably the New Times, Golois and Russk , are by mir to attack the peaceful at rances of t' Agence Russe and the Journal de St. Petersburg. The Golois calls upon the gment to abandon its reserve and tell t issians whether the reports about yielding

THE CHANCELLOR QUESTIONED. LONDON, May 27. - In the house of commons to-day, Sir Stafford Northcote, in re-ply to a question from Lord Hartington, stated that he was unable, as yet, to give detailed information about the negotiations in relation to the congress, but added that he might say that within a few days the prospects of the meeting of the congress had materially improved.

LONDON. May 27.—The sanguine hopes of this morning have not been sustained altogether this afternoon, and notwithstanding the cheers which greeted Sir Stafford Northcote's statement in the commons there was a cold chill of disappointment when it was known that he could only say that the prospects for the congress had improved. There is much anxiety felt as to what yet stands in the way of the agreement, and it is thought certain that the hesitations on the part of Austria were the cause of delay. A letter from Berlin says

A NEW ELEMENT is sensibly affecting the views of the government on the eastern question. German interests are at length to be seen greatly bound up in the question of the present complication. It is no secret fluid cent manifestation of the cordial relations existing between England and France has created a very appreciable uneasiness here, and has greatly increased the delicacy of relation to San Stefano, it will be equivalent to a signal defeat of the czar, and the heavy burdens which must be borne by the Russians, unsupported by elation of suc-cess, will greatly weaken the influence of the Russian government in European afof reform existing within the empire into FLAMES OF REVOLUTION. Germany will thus be deprived of an ally in the event of a conflict with France. It is morally certain that England will not aid Germany. In such a contingency the German government will lose one friend May, 36 %c; June, 36@381 c; July, 361 c without making a new one. On the other hand, if Bismarck openly throws his influence on the side of Gortschakoff, he wi'l excite the PERMANENT HOSTILITY OF EVERY ONE. a hostility which will sooner or later incite France to recover her lost provinces and avenge the other humilliations inflicted in the last war. If the congress does not meet there is a belief in well informed circles in Berlin that it will require great adroitness on the part of the representatives of Germany to avoid inflicting serious injuries on the prestige of Russia, while maintaining intact the interests of the signatory powers of the treaty of Paris. The humilliation and allieniation of Russia must be avoided and cause for a close Anglo-French alliance prevented.

THE INVITATIONS SIGNED. Prince Bismarck has signed the invitations to the powers to attend the congr ss. which w''ll most probably be convened June 11.

There will be 13,000,000 acres restored to the fairs, and may turn the slumbering embers | market, leaving to be sold on trust for the Indians nearly five million acres.

> THE ANDERSON INTERVIEW. Secretary Sherman was asked by a re-porter to-day about the Anderson interview of last Saturday. The secretary referred the reporter to Judge Shellabarger, who, as his counsel, would, he said, tell all that was necessary on the subject.

Judge Shellabarger, when asked about the matter, replied: "Well, I will say this much: Mr. Anderson came here, as I understand, from Judge Marks, Marks showed a letter from Anderson some days before, saying that he wanted to come here and thought he would come, or something to that effect. On Saturday Judge Marks came to my office and said that Anderson was urging him to take him up to see Sherman, and that he repeatedly refused to go with him, because that he did not wished to be mixed up in Anderson's affairs; but at last he consented to go if Gov. Hahn would also go along. My advice was not asked as to going or not going. So far as I can remember, later in the afternoon Judge Marks came to me and said that he had asked Secretary Sherman if he would see Anderson on Anderson's solicitation that he would se him, and that Sherman had sent him (Marks) to me to ask me as his lawyer whether it would be proper for him to see Anderson. I said yes, certainly, if he has no objections, but that others ought statement being made as to what occurred Bernas, May 27.—It Is stated that the fice, and told him the same. Very soon afterwards Anderson, Judge Marks ities have closed the socialist meetings at and Gov. Hahn came into the secretary's rooms together. After some time of silence a conversation passed between the secretary and Anderson, which, I have been told since, was reduced to writing by Mr. Sherman's secretary. At the end of this conversation the secretary asked if I desired to ask Mr. Anderson any questions. I said po. That I had come there because I had an interview, and I came to overhear what he had to say. Thereupon Mr. Anderson begin to talk pretty loud and to protest that he had gone over there on the invitathe interview. To this a denial was then and there interposed by Judge Marks, and I believe Gov. Hahn, alleging that they had gone over with him at his urgent solicitation. There the matter ended, and And-

CONCERNING BANKRUPTS.

The bill introduced to-day in the house by Mr. Vance, of North Carolina, to secure homesteads under the bankrupt laws and to prevent frauds in obtaining a discharge i bankruptcy, proposes to amend section 5.047 of the revised statutes by striking out that portion which exempts from assignment the amount of property exempt from executive in the several states in 1871, and in the thereof to insert a clause which provid s for the exemption of one thousand dollars worth of real estate, to be set apart by the assignee in fee simple for the benefit of the bankrupt, free from the claims of erediters' hands, to be determined by the appointment of three disinterested persons. The provisions of the above clause are not made retroactive, and the provisions of the present bankrupt laws, prescribing a limit of two years, within which a creditor can file exception to the discharge on the grounds of fraud are repeated.

AN ARKANSAS COW.

The yield of milk from northern dairy cows is incredible to people in regions Democrats to secure votes enough to pass where cattle are raised mostly for their beef on Wednesday the senate joint resolution to and hides. Judge Grant was in Little Rock, adjourn on the 10th of June. A number of Ark., in attendance at the United States representatives will vote for it, and the court. One morning he saw a farmer with Democrats who favor it feel confident that a slouch hat, and genuine butternut suit, the resolution will be agreed to. It is trying to sell a cow in the market there. It was a large, long-horned animal, and the planter was informing a man that the cow would give four quarts of milk a day if

Up stepped the judge. "What do you ask for the cow!"

"About thirty dollars. She'll give five quarts of milk if you feed her well," replied the planter, and he proceeded to describe her good qualities.

Said the judge: "I have cows on my farm, not more than half as big as your cow, which give twenty to twenty-five quarts of milk a day.

The planter eyed the judge sharply for a moment, as if trying to remember whether he had ever seen him before or not, and then asked: "Stranger, where do you

"My home is in Iowa." "Yes, stranger, I don't dispute it. There was heaps of sogers from Iowa down here during the war, and, stranger, they were the all-firedest fiars in the whole Yankee army. Mebbe you must be an officer in some of them regiments?" The judge slid out of the court house.

CONVENIENT FOR THEATER-GOERS

[New York Correspondence Cincinnati Gazette.] One of the theaters has introduced a new idea in connection with its box office, which is worth describing. In its lobby stands a square box, mounted on a hand some pedestal, the box containing an exact model of the interior of the theatre. There is a glass front, through which you look at the theater as if from the stage. There is a tiny model of every seat in the house, and its number and letter plainly indicated, so that you may choose your seat, or see just what the position is of that which you are offered at the box office. Then at the sides of the box are glass windows, through which you can look at the stage, and see just what view you can get of is from any seat in the house.

A MANIFEST ABSURDITY.-It is manifestly absurd to claim for a mere stimulant, tonic and alterative properties. Yet this is to be present to prevent any erroneous what is daily done by the vendors of cheap during the interview. I then said to local bitters, colored to make them look Judge Marks that I would go at any time, attractive, and agreeably flavored, but the I went immediately to the secretary's of- alcoholic basis of which is of the vilest and ent success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters the leading alterative tonic of the United States, has induced many of these compounders of drams in disguise, to attempt the counterfeiting of this standard medicine, but their efforts have never proved successrul on a large scale, and they have themselves in many instances "come to grief," through the instrumentality of the law. The genuine Bitters have, indeed, a spirituous basis, but they are emphatically a medicine, since their botanic ingredients are signally effications in overcoming and preventing chills and fever, dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, and many other disorders.
